

Information for Retail Food Establishments

A food handling license is required to conduct a food business in South Brunswick Township. The licenses are not transferrable and all licenses expire December 31. The Health Department also licenses Mobile Food vendors, Food Vending Machines, and Special Temporary Food Events. Contact the Health Department for details about obtaining a license.

South Brunswick Township requires all food handlers that prepare food to have attended a Basic Food Handler Training Course. Courses are given by the Health Department periodically. Contact the Health Department for the latest schedule.

State regulations now require all Type 3 Food Establishments to have at least one Certified Food Protection Manager on staff. Download our information flyer for details about obtaining this training.