Dear Member,

For those of you who know me, you are most likely aware that I have a strong sense of ‘what is right’. As a social worker for over 30 years I find myself gravitating toward advocating for people and situations and some of you may have benefited from my advocacy. Thinking back, I probably went into the field of social work because it allowed me to pursue helping people and causes.

This month I get to reflect on how far the LGBTQ community has come as I am reminded that June is Pride Month. I find it astounding that just over 10 years ago gay, lesbian, bisexual and transgender Americans could not serve in the military and that just over 10 years ago Massachusetts was the only state that allowed for marriage equality. Less than 50 years ago, ‘being gay’ was considered a mental illness by the American Psychiatric Association and a little over a decade ago, vicious, violent acts motivated by prejudice against LGBTQ Americans were not legally recognized by the United States government as hate crimes. In recent years, the LGBTQ community has made tremendous strides towards equality in America. This group has some more work ahead of them but they have come a long way!

June 15th is World Elder Abuse Awareness

As Americans, we believe in justice for all. Yet, every year an estimated five million, or one in ten older Americans experience elder abuse, neglect, or exploitation. Believe it or not, it can be a friend or a neighbor who is being abused, neglected or exploited. Sometimes we discount our hunch that something might be going on with someone we know. We ruminate over whether we should get involved. Most of the time I think giving people the benefit of the doubt is a good thing to do but in this instance, if you think someone you know may be exploited for example, please reach out to Adult Protective Services. Your name can remain anonymous and you might be helping someone. The number in Middlesex County is: 732.745.3635.

On a lighter note, we have many fantastic programs this month and I look forward to seeing you soon!

According to the Alzheimer’s Association, there are “more than 55 million living with Alzheimer’s or another dementia” worldwide. The month of June recognizes Alzheimer’s and Brain Awareness and is a great opportunity to educate yourself on brain health and related conditions.

June 21st has been designated “The Longest Day” and is often used as a day to raise awareness and funds for Alzheimer’s Associations.

Many people are unaware that although Alzheimer’s is the most common type of dementia, there are actually over 100 different memory and behavior conditions that fall under the term “dementia”. It is important to note that not all forgetfulness is a definite sign that you are experiencing dementia. According to the National Institute of Aging, “forgetfulness can be a normal part of aging. As people get older, changes occur in all parts of the body, including the brain. As a result, some people may notice that it takes longer to learn new things, they don't remember information as well as they did, or they lose things like their glasses.”

There are also medical conditions that can mimic symptoms of dementia and Alzheimer’s. It is important to consult your physician if you are noticing any changes or concerns.

In addition to a healthy diet, good sleep practices and an exercise routine to promote healthy aging, it is recommended that you exercise your brain by playing challenging games, doing puzzles and trying new things. It is also important to socialize when possible. Staying social is proven to improve and maintain brain health.

There are many opportunities to do just that here at our center!
The State of NJ, Department of Human Services, (Division of Aging), has an online application called NJSAVE.

Fun Facts of June

The month of June is one of the four months that contain only 30 days.

June 1st brings with it new seasons, with meteorological summer beginning in the Northern Hemisphere, and meteorological winter beginning in the Southern Hemisphere.

The month of June, like all the best superheroes, has several origin stories. One theory states that June was named after the Roman goddess Juno, wife to Jupiter and goddess of marriage.

Another theory states that June got its name from the Latin word “iuniores” which roughly translates to “younger”, since it follows the month of May which is rumored to have been named after the Latin word for “elders”.
